NOVEMBER 13, 2019

In existence since 1974, AMSD currently represents 41 K-12 metropolitan school districts, five intermediate school districts and two integration districts. AMSD member districts enroll more than half of all of the public school students in Minnesota. The mission of AMSD is to advocate for state education policy that enables metropolitan school districts to improve student learning.

DR. MARGUERITE ROZA

Marguerite Roza, Ph.D., is Research Professor and Director of the Edunomics Lab (Edunomicslab.org), a research center focused on exploring and modeling education finance policy and practice. Dr. Roza’s research traces the effects of fiscal policies at the federal, state, and district levels for their implications on resources at the school and classroom levels. Her work has prompted changes in education finance policy at all levels in the education system.

MINNEAPOLIS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Minneapolis Public Schools, located in Minnesota’s largest city, is an urban school district with schools in or near every Minneapolis neighborhood. In 2018, the district began an initiative to improve its relationship with parents using “parent participatory evaluation” that was ultimately featured in Education Week as a successful model of parent communication.

SUPERINTENDENT ED GRAFF

Ed Graff is the Superintendent of Minneapolis Public Schools. Previously he served as the superintendent of the Anchorage School District, one of the nation’s 100 largest school districts. Originally from Minnesota, Mr. Graff holds a Bachelor’s Degree in Elementary Education from the University of Alaska Anchorage, and a Master’s in Education Administration from University of Southern Mississippi. He has post-masters coursework in curriculum, educational leadership and instruction.

ERIC MOORE

Eric Moore is the Chief of Accountability, Research and Equity at Minneapolis Public Schools. As Chief of Accountability, he provides leadership for the full scope of the Research, Evaluation, Accountability and Assessment Department (REAA), as well as district efforts around the district strategic and department plans, equity, social and emotional learning, school integration, and school improvement efforts.
